

Questions to Ask Your Doctor

You can play an active role in your health by talking to your doctor or nurse about breast cancer. Here are some questions to ask that you may find helpful. You can easily print this page, which includes space to write down the answers your doctor gives you.

FASLODEX is indicated for the treatment of hormone receptor-positive metastatic breast cancer in postmenopausal women whose disease has returned or progressed following antiestrogen therapy.

ABOUT ADVANCED BREAST CANCER

Is my breast cancer hormone receptor positive?

What stage is my breast cancer? What does this mean?

Why has my breast cancer recurred? Does this mean my treatment will have to change?

What are my chances of responding to treatment?

TREATMENT OPTIONS

What are the treatment options for my stage of breast cancer? Why or why not would these treatments help me?

Surgery

Radiation

Chemotherapy

Hormonal treatment

Biologically targeted therapy

Clinical trial participation

What treatment options, oral or injectable, are available to me as an advanced breast cancer patient?

What treatment do you feel will work best for me?
Why are you recommending this treatment?

What are the possible side effects of this treatment? Will it make me feel sick?

Will this treatment allow me to continue to be involved in my normal daily activities?
If not, would another treatment be better for me so I can remain active?

Will the treatment affect my family? What do they need to know?

Will the treatment affect my appearance? If so, are there other options that will not change the way that I look?

What if my current therapy does not continue to benefit me?
Are there any other options?

What types of hormonal treatments are available to me? Would any be beneficial?
Is there any treatment I could be prescribed that does not have to be taken daily?

What are the latest advances in hormonal treatments?

How often will I be able to see my health care professional?

IF YOUR DOCTOR RECOMMENDS FASLODEX AS A TREATMENT OPTION

How will I know if FASLODEX is working?

What are the side effects?

How can I manage side effects?

What side effects should I tell you about?

Will I need follow-up care?

OTHER CONSIDERATIONS

What studies are currently under way for women with advanced breast cancer?

Do you recommend a clinical trial for me? How can it help?

Where can I get further information on advanced breast cancer?

Where can I find additional support?

Please be sure to let your doctor know all the medications (prescription, over-the-counter, and herbal supplements) you currently take. Also, check with your doctor before starting any other medication.

Important Information About FASLODEX® (fulvestrant) Injection

FASLODEX is indicated for the treatment of hormone receptor-positive metastatic breast cancer in postmenopausal women whose disease has returned or progressed following antiestrogen therapy.

Important Safety Information About FASLODEX

Only postmenopausal women should take FASLODEX. Do not take FASLODEX if you are pregnant and do not become pregnant while taking FASLODEX, because it may harm your unborn child. (See WARNINGS and CONTRAINDICATIONS sections of full Prescribing Information www.faslodex.com/common/pi.asp).

Because FASLODEX is administered intramuscularly, it should not be used in patients with certain blood disorders or in patients receiving anticoagulants (sometimes called blood thinners, for example, warfarin).

In clinical studies, the most commonly reported side effects were nausea, vomiting, constipation, diarrhea, abdominal pain, headache, back pain, hot flashes, sore throat, and injection site reactions with mild, transient pain and inflammation

Please click here for full Prescribing Information.